CONGRESS WILL LOOK AFTER FARM INTERESTS

Senator Gore Proposes to Investigate Supplies of Farming Materials and Machinery.

(International News Service.)
Washington, April 18.—Congress does not intend to allow the war to jeopardize the future of America's industries. This is indicated today in measures before the senate to insure the safety of the agricultural industry.

Senator Gore, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, has a resolution before the senate to investigate the supplies of farming materials and machinery.

Farmers throughout the nation are urging their representatives to act. They maintain that because of the war manufacturers of farming implements and materials are turning their efforts solely to war work. It is maintained that this is already jeopardizing the nation's food supply because it is restricting farming and is increasing the cost of production.

Representations have been made to the members of the senate agriculture committee that at the rate of production for farm materials now, peace will find the United States unequipped to properly feed its people and it is even argued that if the war continues long enough the food supplies of the army will have to be restricted.

Manufacturers of farm materials have cut their production widely in order to turn to the more profitable manufacture of munitions, it is claimed. In some instances this decrease in production is stated to be as much as 50 per cent.

Senator Gore, by his resolution, would have the federal trade commission make a complete investigation, and if facts warrant it he would sponsor legislation which would force government supervision over the production of farming materials.

The resolution has been tabled, but Senator Gore intends to bring it up for action in the senate within a few days.

ROOSEVELT SAYS:

"I Am Not Interested in Being President of the United States—The Office Has Not the Slightest Attraction for Me."

(By Gilson Gardner.)
New York, April 18.—Col. Roosevelt is himself again. Anyway, he looks it. I found him at his old offices in the Metropolitan Magazine building. Reports of his sufferings from the recent operation had led me to expect more of a change.

The colonel was rampaging around the place in his customary fashion, seeing admiring callers, dictating letters for whooping up the liberty loan, giving directions about his mail, doing a few editorials and preparing to move to new quarters farther up town.

I failed to discover any of that rumored lameness.

"Which side, colonel, is the good hearing side?" I asked.

"I do pretty well with either side," he replied. There was no difficulty carrying on ordinary conversation.

As usual there was a full outer office and finally the colonel proposed that we dash for the automobile.

Knowing I would believe him, the colonel said to me as we rode what he might not have said to another.

"You know that I am telling you the truth when I say to you that I am not interested in being president of the United States."

"The time was when I wanted the office. Today I want only to accomplish certain things and the office as such has not the slightest attraction for me."

"I want to put over some things which I think the country needs—universal military training, a much more advanced and enlightened land policy, and other things tending toward greater economic democracy. We must bring up to date the old progressive party issues."

"I am convinced that we must work through the old parties. There is nothing in the minor party proposition, and I am willing to work through the republican party organization if they are willing to work with me. I have said this frankly to every republican manager who has come to me."

"If they will not, however, stand for the things I stand for, then I am through with them and they are through with me. It makes not a particle of difference to me except, as I say, that I wish to accomplish certain things."

"I am not in the slightest degree interested in candidates or elections except as they contribute to really important achievements."

The colonel did not allude to the present administration or to the war. Something was said about the bill to punish certain utterances or publications, supposedly obstructive to the conduct of the war.

"I am determined not to be deprived of my constitutional right of free speech, whether it be critical or otherwise," he said, "and I shall continue to do what I consider my duty, even if it should land me in jail."

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT

tacks along an overextended front, in the hope of some such lucky result as almost happened when Gen. Carey blocked the road to Amiens with his improvised battalions of engineers and civilians, who literally hardly knew one end of a gun from the other, his predictions can scarcely convince the outside observer.

That is a kind of opportunity which is not likely to happen a second time; but when the Kaiser is playing his last desperate stake, an increasing disposition to trust to luck in spite of all German method and prevision is sufficiently evident to account for the allied confidence in ultimate results.

GLASS FOUND IN BREAD FROM EXCHANGE

Official Bulletin Issued at Camp Wheeler So Charges.
Must Masticate Food Well.

(International News Service.)
Macon, Ga., April 18.—An official bulletin has been issued at Camp Wheeler to the effect that a large percentage of glass has been found in bread issued by the camp quartermaster and that a number of pieces of broken glass were found in a bottle of coca-cola purchased from an exchange within the camp. Gen. French has ordered that a memorandum to this effect be read to every unit at the camp and that the soldiers be cautioned to slowly masticate all the bread they eat, so as to detect the presence of glass before swallowing it, and to be extremely careful in drinking soft drinks from bottles, for fear of broken glass therein.

HUNGARY HESITATES

Holds Off From Accepting German Commercial Relations Plan.

New York, April 17.—(Correspondence Associated Press.)—Statesmen of Hungary hesitate to adopt the German plan for closer commercial relations between Germany and Austria-Hungary because of the chance that the entente nations will retaliate by adopting a similar plan of giving preferential consideration to one another, to the exclusion of Austria-Hungary.

"This would permanently divide the world into two hostile camps," it was asserted in a Budapest letter to the Cologne Gazette. "It may be doubtful, declared the writer, whether the enemy states in the east could be forced to recognize a fixed commercial status between Germany and Austria without themselves insisting upon the right to give preferential treatment to each other. Even if it were possible, by forcing all our enemies to the knees, to preserve the policy of preferential treatment among the central powers, the neutral states certainly would oppose such a plan."

Hungarian industrial, commercial and labor classes were disinclined to effect an economic rapprochement with Germany by means of a tariff union or preferential tariff treaty, asserted the Budapest correspondent. This was partly based on the ground that it was not practicable and would result in a clash of interests between the central powers and the allies.

The sympathy now existing between the central powers.

PRESIDENT FAVORS ESTIMATES TO BUILD CONCRETE SHIPS

Will Require $50,000,000 Appropriations for the Establishment of Suitable Plants.

Washington, April 18.—The shipping board authorizes the following: "President Wilson has approved an estimate of appropriations for $50,000,000 for the acquisition or establishment of plants suitable for concrete shipbuilding, or for the enlargement or extension of such plants as are now or may be hereafter acquired or established, and for the cost of construction, purchasing, requisitioning, or otherwise acquiring such concrete ships."

"The shipping board has already planned to construct three launching ways for three 2,500-ton concrete vessels, and if these proved to be successful the board had then intended to go to the 7,500-ton type. But with this large appropriation in mind Chairman Harney said that rush work will be immediately begun at the projected plant in Wilmington, N. C."

SENATOR "HAM" LEWIS TO OPEN KENTUCKY DRIVE

(Special to The News.)
Knoxville, April 18.—Senator "Ham" Lewis, in Knoxville, en route to Louisville to open Kentucky's liberty loan drive, predicted most certainly that the United States and its allies would win the war against Germany. He commended Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee, whom he classed as "one of the most influential men in the senate."

RELIEF IN HOUSING PROBLEM SEEMS NEAR

Senate Expects to Pass $60,000,000 Appropriation Bill to Meet Needs of Workers.

(By Robert B. Smith, International News Service Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, April 18.—Relief was close at hand today for the difficulties encountered in war work because of inadequate housing facilities for workmen. The senate expects to pass the $60,000,000 housing bill before adjournment tonight. Later on another measure appropriating a lump sum of at least $15,000,000 to be used by the president in extending loans to war industries for housing of workmen probably will be offered.

Charlie Chaplin Helps Atlanta With Liberty Loan

(International News Service.)
Atlanta, April 18.—Eight thousand Atlanta people, Charlie Chaplin and a band netted a loan of $502,350 for Uncle Sam last night. Packed into the Atlanta auditorium, the public went wild with patriotism for two hours and showered so steady a stream of bond orders upon officials in charge of the big mass meeting that three stenographers, several counters and an adding machine expert were at the end completely floored.
